June 8 Showcase – Ben Hamblin by Dan Grove

Ben Hamblin has loved singing all his life. As a kid, he learned Steven Foster songs, and was frequently chosen to be the lead in school musical productions. He was selected as a tenor for the Massachusetts All-State Chorus for three straight years in high school, and can still sing as high now as he could then. This means the guy can soar, folks, and put goose bumps on your arms!

Singing isn't the only thing Ben had an early love for. In eighth grade woodshop, he made his first guitar, a 4-string tenor, and when he played it incessantly his parents got the hint and bought him a full-sized one. He played in a duo in high school with a flutist, had a band in the 80's (he plays electric guitar and bass as well as acoustic), and sang with a church folk group for several years in the mid-nineties. Classical music is another strong love for Ben, everything from Bach to the present, with Beethoven and Mahler his favorite composers.

Ben and his wife Gail left New England eight years ago, eager to escape the winters. They chose this area, and now live in Reston. Ben works as a team leader for Raytheon, and is using his technical skills at the Folk Club, too, where he's one of our top sound engineers.

For his showcase, Ben has a "new" theme – songs he admires but has never performed at the Folk Club before. Expect a wide mix from writers like Ray Davies (the Kinks), Patty Larkin, Paul McCartney, the Jefferson Airplane, and John Hiatt, plus a six-part harmony transportation to glory and salvation. He'll be accompanied by his wife Gail, Paula Monks, Kathleen Farrar, Ron Goad, and Dan Grove. Don't miss his showcase!

Herndon, VA

Jack Hardy is “a more literate Celtic Townes Van Zandt, grave in his tone and generous in his ideals, as rooted in the present soil and sky of Ireland and America as he is fascinated by the legends of the past” (Roy Kasten, St. Louis Riverfront Times, February 3, 1999). It is a strange mix of themes ranging from the American West to the ballads and jigs of Celtic ancestors that somehow seems to make sense in the musical world Jack Hardy has created. And it is a separate world to which the listener is transported; a timeless place inhabited by tinkers and cowboys, saints and sinners, elves, virgins and crones. From his extensive travels and reading he has forged an endearing non-academic approach to literature, one that is more at home in the pub than in the classroom. “He clearly seems to enjoy making his listeners think. He may dare his audience to figure out what he is saying, but he also credits them with the intelligence to do so” (Tom Nelligan, Dirty Linen). In Europe, where Hardy has toured extensively for over 20 years, he is accepted as an ambassador for American music. In an Italian encyclopedia of rock Jack has a larger entry than many prominent rock stars. Nothing adventuresome is created in a vacuum,” Jack says, “you get people together and the creative sparks fly.” The weekly songwriters workshop which he has hosted for many years taught and nurtured countless songwriters, not the least of which are Suzanne Vega, John Gorka, Shawn Colvin, Richard Shindell and David Massengill. The Fast Folk Musical Magazine, which he founded and edited, released the first recordings of most of the artists currently headlining folk festivals. This collection of over 100 compilation albums has now been taken over by the Smithsonian. Gregarious and outgoing when talking about his songs and songwriting in general, Jack fiercely guards the privacy of his personal life. Jack Hardy was born in Indiana, his father a musician, his mother a painter. He grew up in New York, Colorado, and Connecticut, studied opera and literature in college. In 1998, Prime CD reissued his first ten albums in a box set as well as his eleventh album The Passing. In 1996, BCN Records released a tribute album The Songs of Jack Hardy: Of the White Goddess, a collection of his Celtic ballads (all sung by women). In 1997, Jack was the recipient of The Kate Wolf Memorial Award, given yearly to “an artist who makes a difference through his music” by the World Folk Music Association. In 2000, Prime CD has released Jack’s twelfth album Omens. Omens was recorded live to 24 track analog in two days, using the vintage recording equipment of Prime CD’s Theater 99 recording studio in New York City, with no overdubs. The fourteen songs range from the uptempo Celtic “Sile na gCioch” where a tinker finds a dress on the side of the road and gives it to a young lass, to the majestic “West of Dingle” where a woman faces a choice between her lover and her fiddle; from the biting barrage of juxtaposed media images of “I Ought to Know” to the romantic ballad “Only One Sky” and back to the uptempo humorous Clancy Brother-ish “The Boney Bailiff.” This album takes you on quite a musical voyage with some of Jack’s best poetic imagery, but it is the sweeping beautiful melodies that carry these songs directly into your memory. The players include Jack’s current touring band: Tom Duval on electric guitar and harmony (also heard on Jack’s albums The Hunter and Civil Wars), Mike Laureanno on Hofner bass and harmony, Dave Anthony on Drums (also heard on Jack’s album The Passing), and Kate MacLeod on fiddle. The album also features a buried bonus track containing 19 minutes of Suzanne Vega interviewing Jack on the subject of songwriting.

FOLK CLUB FORMAT

Most Tuesday nights, the Folk Club is an open mike format with a sign-up board. Each performer has 12 minutes, which included set-up time. On the second Tuesday of the month, we feature a "Showcase" of a Folk Club member in a 25-minute performance.

SHOWCASE PERFORMANCES

To be in the Showcase, you must: 1) be a Folk Club member who has not done a showcase in the last 6 months. 2) Fill out a lottery slip and place it in the "drawing bucket". 3) Win the drawing on the night of the current month's showcase. 4) Be prepared to be featured in the next newsletter!

NEWSLETTER PUBLICATION

Folk Club members are encouraged to submit performance calendars, classified advertisements, articles, reviews, artwork and other music related items to Dianne Lafleur at dlafleur2@yahoo.com. Information should be received one week before the last day of the month in which you want it published. Items will be published on the basis of music related interest, timeliness, and space available.
