December 12 Showcase – Scott Malyszka

by Dan Grove

Scott Malyszka (pronounced Ma-lis-ka) lives in Reston near Trader Joe's, with his wife Robin and three big dogs. He's originally from Pennsylvania, where he grew up in a house full of music. The radio or stereo was always on, and he particularly remembers his parents' Elvis and Beatles records. Scott played flute and saxophone in the school band, then got a guitar at age 14 and was soon into a Bob Dylan phase. Over the years he's also listened to Woody Guthrie, Hank Williams, Pete Seeger, blues artists, Bill Monroe, Doc Watson, and many others.

Scott's first college career was in Biblical and ancient Near East studies. He has a BA and an MA in Theology, and has done research in the Akkadian, Aramaic, Greek, and Hebrew languages. He then got a BA in Information Systems at Penn State, became a software engineer, and currently works for the College Board in Reston Town Center. He codes in C, C++, HTML, Oracle SQL, and Java.

That's a lot of languages, ranging from ancient to cutting edge modern. But Scott also knows another notation system – braille. Yes, Scott is blind. You may have seen him at the Folk Club as a duo with Harry Brooks, a friend Scott met while working at Network Solutions a while ago. Harry will be there again on guitar for the showcase, and they'll be joined by Bill Smoot on mandolin and bass, and Kathleen Farrar on banjo. Scott will play fiddle and guitar, and handle the lead vocals on some bluegrass and old-time songs.

Scott's introduction to bluegrass music was in an unusual place – he was doing graduate studies in Jerusalem in 1993, and some neighbors asked him to form a trio. He didn't really know what bluegrass was then, but certainly picked it up, and his strong voice is perfect for it. Don't miss this showcase!

The Year In Review

2006 is almost over, and it's time once again to look back at some of the fun we've had here at the Folk Club this past year. Those who have attended the monthly concerts have enjoyed music by some of the finest national and international performers around. Many thanks again to our President, Ray Kaminsky for booking such wonderful musicians for our club.

The monthly showcases bring us enjoyment and deeper insight into the talents and interests of the Folk Club members who have entertained us during our regular weekly gatherings. Open mike nights have enjoyed such remarkable attendance over much of the past year that on most nights, the board was filled up well before the music began. Special thanks go out once again to Chuck Curcio for our home here at the Tortilla Factory.

Thanks again to Armen Karimian for maintaining such a high-quality web site for The Club. Armen works as Office Manager and Tech Wizard at the Chamber of Commerce, and goes to George Mason University, where he is studying Internet Technology and Business. He creates websites on the side, and is open to requests for such work if anyone is in need of a great-looking website.

Special thanks to Bill Farrar and John McConnell for coming in every week to set up the sound system for us – you guys are the best! Thanks to Dave Hurd for the myriad tasks he performs to keep The Club running. My personal thanks to Dave, Ray, and Dan Grove for helping to get the newsletter out every month. Thanks also to all the volunteers who help setup, operate, and break down the equipment, and the performers who come in every week to entertain us. With your help we can all look forward to another year of enjoying music and laughter together in the best club in town.

WFMA Benefit Concert 2007 – Tribute to Odetta

Mark your calendars now for March 24, 2007. That's the date of the 22nd Annual WFMA Benefit Concert. This year's show will return to the beautiful Rachel M. Schlesinger Concert Hall and Arts Center at Northern Virginia Community College, Alexandria Campus, where some of the country's greatest folk performers will pay tribute to folk legend Odetta. This concert has been rescheduled from January 20 to March 24 due to scheduling conflicts. "Because of WFMA's desire to make this concert and tribute to Odetta a truly special event," says WFMA president Dick Cerri, "we needed a little more time to talk further with some of the performers who we feel would make the concert an extraordinary evening but because of scheduling problems could not commit to a January date." There will be no WFMA concert in January.

As more information becomes available about the concert it will be posted on the WFMA web site at: <http://www.wfma.net/>
