April 8 Showcase – T.M. Hanna

by Dan Grove

Thomas Michael Hanna has done more showcases than any other Folk Club member. He always re-invents his performances, and usually brings a kaleidoscope of co-conspirators on stage with him. For this showcase, he'll be accompanied by Kathleen Farrar, Sue Schier, Lisa Cobb, and Loralyn Coles. They'll do a variety of songs, including "Northern Lights," one of Loralyn's originals.

TM has tinkered at playing almost every instrument imaginable, but has settled on the mandolin as his ace axe. His musical tastes are comprehensive, too - he's got a remarkable knowledge of pop and folk musicology, especially about American songwriters of the last 200 years. Mention a song, and he'll know all about its writer and recording history. To top it off, he's a witty stand-up comedian for the patter between songs.

TM works at Melody Music in Sterling, teaching harmonica, banjo, and mandolin as well as guiding customers through sundry musical paraphernalia. Over the years, he's also performed with a variety of groups, like the Justis League, the Space Time Gourmets, the Mad Cows, and the Porch Monkeys. He's played all over, including the Avalon, Country Roads, and Cherry Blossom Festivals, but keeps coming back to the Folk Club because it's the only place where his eccentricities are overshadowed by everyone else's, and the challenge to rise to our level of quirky charm inspires him.

As always at a TM Hanna showcase, the provocative refinement and gentility on display may inspire the distaff members of the audience to lapses of discretion. Gentlemen escorting ladies of a delicate constitution are advised to bring revivifying elixirs, tinctures, and unguents, the better to assist the dear lady should she swoon with the vapors after tossing unmentionables, motel keys, and large denomination currency onto the stage.

Just another day of what passes for normal at the Folk Club.

Siobhan Quinn & Michael Bowers

Tickets $12 ($11 Members)

The Folk Club
Proudly Presents ...
7:15 PM – April 29, 2008
at the Tortilla Factory
648 Elden Street
Herndon, VA

Brimming with compelling songs and seamless harmonies, a performance by Siobhán Quinn and Michael Bowers is as comfortable as hanging out with your best friends and as much fun as backyard fireworks. They don't play it safe and they never create the same show twice. She blows you away with her vocals. He draws you in with his warmth. Together Siobhan and Michael paint dynamic and colorful stories with rich original, contemporary and traditional music. Like their performances, Siobhan (pronounced shhh-vawn) and Michael's first recording together, "Dreamers, Lovers & Outlaws" (DLO), is filled with gracious and gritty stories and observations of the human experience.

Both Michael and Siobhan have individual reputations earned from five collective recordings, national touring and radio play reaching international levels prior to their partnership; their collaboration brings out the best in each. Upon the release of DLO they were immediately awarded spots at the prestigious 2007 Kerrville New Folk Competition and 2007 Falcon Ridge Emerging Artist Showcase, along with multiple regional, national and international main stage showcases. One audience member approached them saying "how on earth did you write MY song ...not once: but again, and again!?" Simply put: Siobhan Quinn & Michael Bowers sing and create songs with an intimacy and universality that truly resonate with persons of all experiences in life.

Siobhán Quinn is originally from Berkeley, California, & upstate New York, and was born of immigrant parents. With a voice of powerful texture and variety, some refer to her as a "pyrotechnic folk & blues diva." She can rip into exuberant blues, bring tears to your eyes with a soulful ballad, or bring an audience to complete stillness with a centuries old folk song. Siobhan's English and Irish family experience comes out in her songwriting, along with that occasional twist into the Chicago & Louisiana blues roots she loves so much.

When he witnessed history growing up in Selma, Alabama, Michael Bowers realized that his most prized possessions were not in boxes or on paper, but in his mind and his voice. He's known for his strong, sophisticated lyrics as well as cut-to-the-chase songs. The lessons of his storied southern roots sometimes surface in live performance and his lyrics range from the heartfelt to humorous. To add even more spice to his vocals and guitar, Michael often uses resonator and high-strung guitars to create different approaches amidst of the duo's material.

In addition to touring and writing, they are both arts education teachers. Michael's unique perspective on songwriting and the music business, and Siobhan's expertise in grant writing, arts administration, and her master vocal class "The Flexible Voice," are draws at esteemed music workshops and retreats throughout the U.S.

MUSICAL NOTES

Special Folk Club Showcase – April 15th

Grab your sandals and dulcimer and get ready to take a trip back to Greenwich Village in the 60's as Ralph Lee Smith and Maddy McNeill unveil their latest book collaboration from Mel Bay books: Greenwich Village - The Happy Folk Singing Days 1950s & 1960s. Filled with pictures and info from the crossroads of the great folk music revival, it's sure to bring back fond memories for those who were around, and enlightenment for those who were less fortunate.

Ralph and Maddy will perform during a special 2-set showcase at the end of the first half of the open mike, and will likely have copies of the new book on hand for those who are interested.

DCBU Spring Concert – April 12

The DC Bluegrass Union's Spring Concert will be held April 12th, 7:00pm at the James Lee Community Center Theater in Falls Church, VA. Tickets will be $18 for members and $22 for non-members. This year's show features David Parmley & Continental Divide, and Good Deale Bluegrass w/Mike Aldridge. Call (703) 916-0655 or visit the website for more information. <http://www.dcbu.org>

WFMA Tribute to Tom Paxton – May 3rd

The World Folk Music Association has updated info on the Tom Paxton Tribute Concert available online. Along with live performers, such as The Chad Mitchell Trio, Noel Paul Stookey and Peter Yarrow (not to mention Tom Paxton), there will be a large TV screen for performers who are unable to attend in person, but wish to be involved in the tribute. On-screen performers will include Tom Rush, Steve Gillette & Cindy Mangsen, The Kennedys, and others. Call (866) 412-5943 to order tickets, or go online for further information at: <http://wfma.net>

SAW West Market Concert Series – April 13th

This month's concert will feature Bob Sima. A former member of the acoustic power trio StereoPool, Bob branched out on his own in 2006 with his first solo CD, Pour it On. A star performer in the SAW pantheon, Bob has garnered accolades everywhere he performs, from house concerts to folk festivals.

Admission is free, but donations are encouraged. Concerts are at the West Market Clubhouse, 1901 Logan Manor Drive, Reston, VA. Call (703) 435-3777 for info, or talk to Ron Goad or Greg Vickers at the Folk Club.
