September 10 Showcase – Tom Bodine

By Tom

My first musical memory is hearing The Beatles' "Love Me Do" on the radio at friend's house as a kid. Something moved in me and it was love at first listen. While I enjoy many styles, music that hits me at an emotional level is what I like best. By day, I work as a computer specialist at the National Institutes of Health, but music is my passion.

Born in Alabama where I lived for all of three months, I grew up in northeast Pennsylvania and Connecticut and started playing the drums in 5th grade. Following high school, I went to St. Lawrence University in Canton, NY and began learning the guitar my senior year. Following graduation, I spent a winter as a ski bum in Utah and later moved to Washington, DC to pursue graduate studies. While living in DC, I continued playing guitar, mostly in the solitude of various living quarters, until a singer friend persuaded me (after a couple too many beers) to accompany her at DC pub open mic and the Tom & Monica duo was born. The duo continued performing in the DC area for several years during which time I wrote my first few songs. At some point along the way, I started singing, and following the dissolution of Tom & Monica, performed solo and in the Bodine & Brown duo.

By no means a prolific songwriter, I went ten years without writing a song until stumbling across a copy of Natalie Goldberg's book Writing Down the Bones, which suggested among other things, that "one must allow oneself to write crap." Freed to an extent from a vociferous and unrelenting internal critic, I wrote eight songs in 2011 and decided in early 2012 to record an album. Overcome with emotion while driving to my first recording session on April 28, I had the feeling that I'd finally come to terms with the part of me that never felt worthy of "being a musician" and was about to embark upon something of vital personal importance—doubts and fear be damned. Nearly seven months later, I walked out of Lizard Studios (a.k.a., recording engineer Gary Jaffe's basement) with two CD masters in hand. A couple weeks later, I took the day off from work and made the road trip to Pennsauken, NJ to pick up the finished product, my debut album Bring Me Back.

Making the album was a great experience that I could not have done without a lot of help from a number of talented friends for whom I am most grateful. I am happy with how the record turned out and more importantly, proud that I persevered through significant doubt and did the best I could at the time. I consider myself very much a work in progress both as a songwriter and as musician, but am in it for the long haul. I look forward to the rest of the journey.

I look forward to my fourth showcase at the Folk Club of Reston/Herndon and promise to have some very special guests joining me on stage at the Amphora Diner Deluxe.

Singer/songwriter/multi-instrumentalist Dave Nachmanoff saw Al Stewart ("Year of the Cat") live for the first time at Royal Albert Hall in London in 1985, in 2006 came back and performed with him, and continues that partnership when he appears with him again in October this year as they tour England and once again play the Royal Albert Hall.

At 10, he played with Libba Cotten ("Freight Train"). He's led songwriting workshops for many groups, from German school children to the Silcocks, a family with 44 adopted boys. In addition, he's a heckofa songwriter in styles ranging from folk to pop who's sold over 15,000 recordings. As a side player (guitar, piano, bass, accordion and more) he's worked with Stewart on a regular basis as well as many others at hundreds of venues as far ranging as The Bottom Line, Glastonbury Festival, and the Edmonton Folk Festival. Oh, and he's got a doctorate in Philosophy which he earned in his spare time. He's shared the stage with Cheryl Wheeler, Steve Forbert, The Pogues, America, Alison Krauss and many others. Dave grew up in the 60's and 70's surrounded by the active folk scene of northern Virginia and Washington DC and was inspired by Pete Seeger, country rock, early revival folk like the Kingston Trio and later on, 80's new wave. Toss in a bit of Celtic folk-rock a la Fairport Convention and it's clear how he got his rich melodic sound.

His latest CD, Step Up, released in 2011 – is his first solo release in five years. He's got nine albums in all, including his first, Candy Shower, released in 1997. Dave tells his stories and sings his well-crafted tunes in a voice like an older Rob Thomas (Matchbox 20) but a guitar style that's more Mark Knopfler or Richard Thompson, and just as versatile too. Just Plain Folks honored Dave with the 2001 Songwriter of the Year award and he was a finalist in the 2011 USA Songwriting Competition. For five consecutive years he was the Susan Lucci of the South Florida Folk Festival, earning a place as a finalist before winning Best Overall in 2002.

SingOut! Magazine has praised Dave's "... heartfelt, inspired songwriting ... with a delivery both biting and assured."

FOLK CLUB FORMAT

Most Tuesday nights the Folk Club is an open-mike format with a signup board. Each performer has 12 minutes, which includes setup time. On the 2nd Tuesday of the month, we feature a "Showcase" of a Folk Club member in a 25-minute performance.

SHOWCASE PERFORMANCES

To be in the Showcase you must: 1) be a Folk Club member who has not done a showcase in the last 6 months; 2) fill out a lottery slip and place it in the "drawing bucket"; 3) Win the drawing on the night of the current month's showcase; and 4) be prepared to be featured in the next newsletter!

NEWSLETTER PUBLICATION

Folk Club members are encouraged to submit performance calendars, classified ads, articles, reviews, artwork and other music-related items to newsletter editor Bob Hampton at bhampton@ossva.com. Information should be received 1 week prior to the end of the month for the next month's newsletter. Items will be published on the basis of music-related interest, timeliness, and available space.
